

Adding and Subtracting Integers Site Evaluation Sheet

Your job is to evaluate each site you visit to find the site that you believe best explains the process of adding and subtracting integers. Because most students find subtracting negative integers to be the most difficult process to master, pay particular interest to these explanations. When you have chosen what you believe to be the best site, you will be guiding other students through the process as it is explained by that site.

Site url:

Date visited:

1. How easy was it to understand the steps as they were explained on the site:

Justify your rating:

2. What, in your opinion, should have been added to the explanation to make it more clear?

Justify your answer:

3. What is the best grade level match for this site:

Justify your answer:

4. How much fun was this site to use:

Justify your answer: